MEET OUR TEAM - Shawn Murphy

Shawn is one of Quadro's newest Installation and Repair team members. Shawn joined Quadro just over four months ago. Don't let his youthful looks fool you, as Shawn joins Quadro with extensive industry experience from larger tele-communication providers.

When not working in the homes and businesses of our clients installing new services, Shawn enjoys spending time with family and friends. Keep a look out for Shawn and help us welcome him to the Quadro team!

As Quadro enters the next quarter century as a Co-operative, we learn from our past and look to the future.

BACKING UP YOUR ANDROID PHONE:

There are three distinct ways to back up your Android device. Most devices have cloud services that you can take advantage of Samsung Cloud, LG Backup, etc., in addition to being able to back up to your Google cloud account. Additionally, you can back up your photos and videos by connecting to your computer and storing your information on your laptop or desktop.

To begin, click on the settings icon (find it at the top of your device (swipe down from the top), in the app area, or saved on your device screens), it looks like this

Once you've tapped the icon, select Back up and Restore.

From here, see image left, you can choose to back up your data to the cloud via your device account (in this example a Samsung) or to your Google account (which is selected here).

To back up to your laptop or desktop, use the USB cable and connect your device to your computer. A popup will appear on your device. Choose the DCIM folder, select the files you want to save and drag them into your computers files (normally Pictures).

HERE'S WHAT CONTENT YOU ARE ABLE TO BACK UP:

- Phone information
- Contacts, Calendar and Clock information
- Device settings and home screen configuration
- App data
- Documents
- Message, text (SMS), and Multimedia Messages (MMS)
- Ringtones.
- Voice and Music files
